What happens if the Ezeelogin license server is not accessible from the gateway server?

Overview: This article will help gateway users to understand how Ezeelogin will operate if it cannot access the license server.

Yes, Ezeelogin gateway users will still be able to access remote servers even if the license server goes down, as licenses are cached on the gateway server for 5 days. Additionally, Ezeelogin license servers are located in multiple data centers across the globe to ensure redundancy.
